WAR ON "FAKE" ADS. STARTED

Chamber of Commerce and Business Aroused by Recent Publication

War on "fake" advertising in Ogden was started today by merchants of the city, according to Secretary O. J. Stillwell of the Ogden chamber of commerce. Several complaints were registered yesterday by various merchants regarding a pocket directory the advertising being solicited by one A. Brown, said to be unknown here.

The directory was printed at a local printery and bore the advertisements of several firms who had not contracted for the advertising, according to Secretary Stillwell.

The advertisement of the W. H. Wright & Sons placed on the first page of the directory was one of the ads in the booklet, which was not obtained from the firm, according to Gus Wright.

Such practice in the future will not be tolerated, according to Secretary Stillwell.

"The booklet which has been printed and distributed in various parts of the city," said Mr. Stillwell, "is not accurate. The information relative to the distances of various cities from Ogden is wrong, while other information in the booklet is also incorrect. Brown informed me that he obtained his information from a taxi driver."

Reorganizing Forest Service Headquarters

Decentralization of forest service offices in this city in under way, according to information received today.

For a number of years it has been the practice at the forest service headquarters to have a central filing system, and a central stenographic section.

Mrs. Emmeline Petchick Lawrence, an English suffragist leader, next in distinction to the famous Mrs. Pankhurst, is now in the United States for the purpose of making a tour of the principal cities in the interest of woman suffrage.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE GOATES ISSUES SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT ON TROOP ACTIVITIES HERE

The second semi-annual report of Scout Executive G. A. Goates of the Ogden unit of the Boy Scouts of America has been submitted and approved by the local council. The period December 31, 1919, to July 1, 1920, has been an important era in Ogden Scout history, said Mr. Goates. The recent trip of the Ogden Scouts to Yellowstone National Park was one of the big accomplishments of the local organization.

The report as submitted by Scout Executive Goates follows:

LACK OF LEADERSHIP.

Scouting is suffering because of the lack of leadership, and if the institutions sponsoring these organizations do not afford the necessary relief their charters may have to be cancelled. Proper leadership is always a serious problem and until more scoutmasters are developed, further extension of the program to the non-scouts of the community is impossible.

There are several institutions in the city who have boys anxious for scouting but who have no leaders. For this reason the report does not show the increase in enrollment of boys as scouts as it might have done.

Through calls to search for lost children have been made 30 scouts were on special first guard duty at the Alhambra theatre during the Live-attack show.

One specific case of real scouting, I feel is worthy of your attention some time since the Junior High School ward L. D. S. church died. The scouts of Troop 23, through their patrol leaders, asked for the privilege of performing the janitorial duties at the church. The church was in a state of decay and the scouts did this unusual "good turn"—this is real scouting!

Until the summer season which took many of the country boys, the usual scout activities were regular. Good progress has been made in scout advancement.

The U. S. Forest Service gave a very interesting illustrated lecture at the Weber Normal College on "Forest Conservation and Wireless Telephone," more than 500 scouts were in attendance.

Troops 2, 13 and 18 gave a joint Scout Rally, which demonstrated many scout activities and was well attended.

Troop 5 presented an unusual school play, which was given at St. Joseph hall, Weber College and Wilson Lane.

Many troops take regular overnight hikes into the canyons, using this method of teaching scout craft in reality. The scouts are much interested in this phase of the program.

Plans are now being made for the summer camping. It is planned that most of the troops will spend at least a week in a regular camp.

The main object of the summer program will be a hike through Yellowstone National Park. This trip will be open for all scouts who may meet the requirements. The National park service officials are co-operating with us and an exceptional trip is planned. It is expected that about 75 or 80 scouts will register for the trip.

Other camps will be made at Bear Lake, East Morgan canyon and South Fork Ogden canyon.

No permanent camp has been selected for this summer. Ten large army tents have been ordered for the use of troops going to camp. No definite plan for a council summer camp has been made. Many of the troops preferring to conduct their own camps.

The question of establishing week-end camps, also a permanent summer camp should be considered by the camp committee and the plans for the 1921 summer camp program made at an early date.

amount to approximately $5.94 per capita.

The average per capita cost of the entire United States for the year 1919 was $10.14.

In view of the circumstances called your attention in this report, I recommend:

First—That a complete survey be made of each district of institutions where troops may be formed.

Second—That a distinct effort be made to develop proper leadership with the view of extending the scouting program to boys not enrolled, and increasing the efficiency of the troops now registered.

Fifth—That a training course be given in scout leadership including both practical and technical scouting and that a suitable certificate of definite recognition of the status of those to your attention in this report, I recommend:

A correspondence course for scoutmasters was recently provided for by the National Council and is now ready for registration.

BOY LEADERS TRAINING.

Sixth—That the more advanced scouts be also given training for leadership in technical scouting.

Third—That a distinct effort be made to develop troop committees and that they be given the definite job of caring for all troop activities in the absence of the scoutmaster and that they function properly in the troop's program of scouting.

Fourth—That a closer co-operation be developed between the troops and sponsor institution that there may be developed a united effort in matters of self defense.

Seventh—The past year has demonstrated that the committee organization of the council has been cumbersome and in many respects failed to function properly in the program. I therefore, make the following recommendations:

(a)—That the attached chart and specification of the organization and management of the Ogden council be adopted (chart and specifications here).

(b)—That conforming thereto the following officers be elected by the council:

President—
"Whose duty it shall be to preside at all meetings. To appoint all committees. Shall be an ex-officio member of all committees."

Vice President—
"Who shall perform the duties of the president in his absence."

Treasurer—
"Who shall keep a record of the receipts and expenditures of the council. Write the checks. Submit annual report to the council."

Secretary—
"Who shall keep the minutes and detail record of all official transactions of the council and its committees."

(The Scout Executive shall be the assistant and recording secretary.)

(c)—The following committees shall be appointed by the president with the advice and approval of the council.

AN EXECUTIVE BOARD.

Consisting of seven members. The president, vice president, secretary and treasurer shall be members of the executive board.

A sub-committee consisting of two members shall be appointed by the executive board and shall constitute an emergency committee with whom the scout executive might confer when a meeting of the executive board is impossible. Any action taken by this committee shall be confirmed at the (May) next regular meeting of the board.

Five members of the council appointed by the president to devise ways and means and execute plans for obtaining funds necessary to meet the authorized budget for carrying out the work of the Ogden council and pledge to the National Council.

Three members of the council, appointed by the president, to arrange budget, give approval and signature of endorsement to the disbursement of all funds, and general direction to all business transactions of the Ogden Council.

COMMITTEE ON OUT-DOOR ACTIVITIES.

Three members of the council appointed by the president, to give general oversight and direction to call camps, improvements and equipment entering into the composition of the week-end camps and other camps and camp property of or under jurisdiction of the Ogden Council.

Seven members of the council, the scout commissioner and other representative citizens who may not be members of the council appointed by the president to constitute and function as a court of honor in accordance with national council requirements.

WELCOME GIVEN NEW FORESTER

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rutledge Guests of Honor at Reception

Welcoming District Forester and Mrs. R. H. Rutledge to Ogden, a reception was given at the Knights of Pythias hall Friday night, the personnel of the forest service headquarters of this city and officials of the bureau of public roads being at the function.

There were 135 guests present, including forest service employees, former employees and their guests. Cards and dancing were the chief diversions of the evening.

American flags were used as the decorative motif. In one corner of the dance hall a ranger's camp, nestled among pines, had been erected. A glowing camp fire burned before the tent and the spicy aroma of burning pine permeated the hall.

Success of the entertainment has been attributed to the careful preparations made by Mrs. C. N. Woods, Mrs. C. D. Morris, Mrs. Ernest Winger, Mrs. W. B. Rice and Mrs. D. R. Shoemaker. A number of the forest service officials also assisted in the entertainment.

Although the affair was informal, many beautiful gowns were worn by a number of the ladies at the dance.

A cleverly arranged dance program each dance number carrying a line relative to some department of the forest service, was one of the features of the evening. The fifth dance of the evening, a waltz, dedicated to the Bureau of Public Roads, commonly referred to by government employees of the B. P. R. as "The Bureau of Parallel Ruts."

Water Manful of the mailing department was one of the entertainers of the evening, favoring the company with a -- impromptu solo dance.

Delicious refreshments were served, the tables being decorated with small pine trees from the Cottonwood nurseries which had been potted like plants.

Mrs. Rosalie Blaisdell, of Honolulu, who has for the past twenty-five years been a leper, has been discharged by the physician of the United States health service in charge of the Kalihalep investigation station as being cured without leaving any apparent trace of the disease in her body.
